

Web Consulting

Order No. 9064679

Individual consultation whatever the location

1 Description

Web consultation is either completely individual or based on standardized topic catalogs on the safety lifecycle for machinery, on the EMC Directive or on the Low Voltage Directive. The content covered in the consultation will be adapted in its details to the specific inquiry.

The following topics may be covered:

- Safety lifecycle for machinery
- Machinery Directive
- EMC Directive
- Low Voltage Directive
- Standards or specific questions regarding implementation
- Analysis of existing verification documentation
- Creation of verification documentation
- Drafts of optimum solutions

During consultation, the Phoenix Contact safety expert will present all aspects of the relevant topic in detail. Specific circumstances can also be discussed during consultation.

Safety aspects

The primary focus of the Machinery Directive and the Low Voltage Directive is the safety and protection of people from health hazards. The EMC Directive describes measures to prevent electromagnetic interference caused by equipment or indeed damage during operation.

The relevant directives must be adhered to in order to place machinery and equipment on the market or make it available in the European Economic Area. Standards support the implementation of the prescribed conformity assessment process.
